What can be said to describe the features of Andrews in just a few words? It's recalling games where you cheered your heart out and others where you cried. It's sophomore orientation for some and spring graduation for others. It's cigarettes in the courtyard and cleanup day for the club. It's pep rallies, fire drills, freezing classrooms, and cafeteria lunches. It's college and career days.

Yesterday's memories, tomorrow's dreams, and today's realities are all just a part of Andrews' student life.

Lester Diggs — "I will have made you a good leader when I make you believe in me; I will have made you a great leader when I make you believe in yourself."

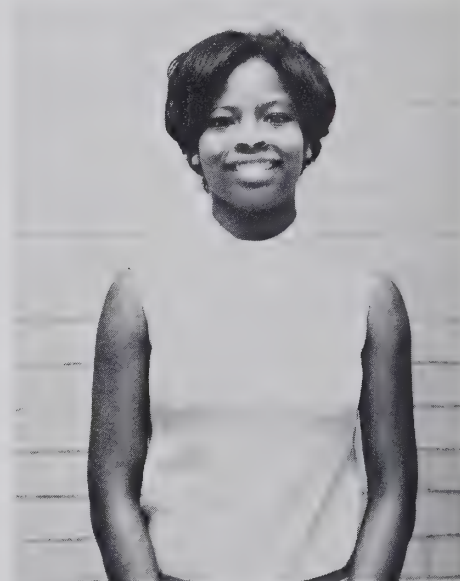

Cathy Carr — "Happiness is as a butterfly, which, when pursued, is always just beyond your grasp, but which, if you will sit down quietly, may alight upon you."

Lee Foye — "The game is more than the player of the game."

Linda Craven — "Our birth is but a sleep and a forgetting; The soul that rises with us, our life's star, Hath had elsewhere its setting, And cometh from afar; At length the man perceives it die away, And fade into the light of common day."

Vicki Harpe — "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured or far away."

Who's Who

Thirteen seniors were selected by their teachers and the senior class to be in Who's Who. Their favorite quotes expressed some of their views about life. This was a very high honor and the student body congratulated them in their success.

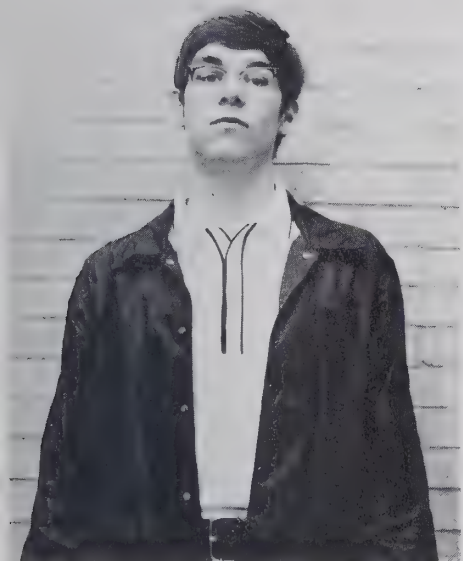

Linda Hohne — "As much of heaven is visible as we have eyes to see. Hope is a waking dream."

Susan Idol — "To err is human, to forgive divine."

Ronny Johnson — "Success begins with a fellow's will. It's all in the state of mind."

Scott Lambeth — "It is a silly game where nobody wins."

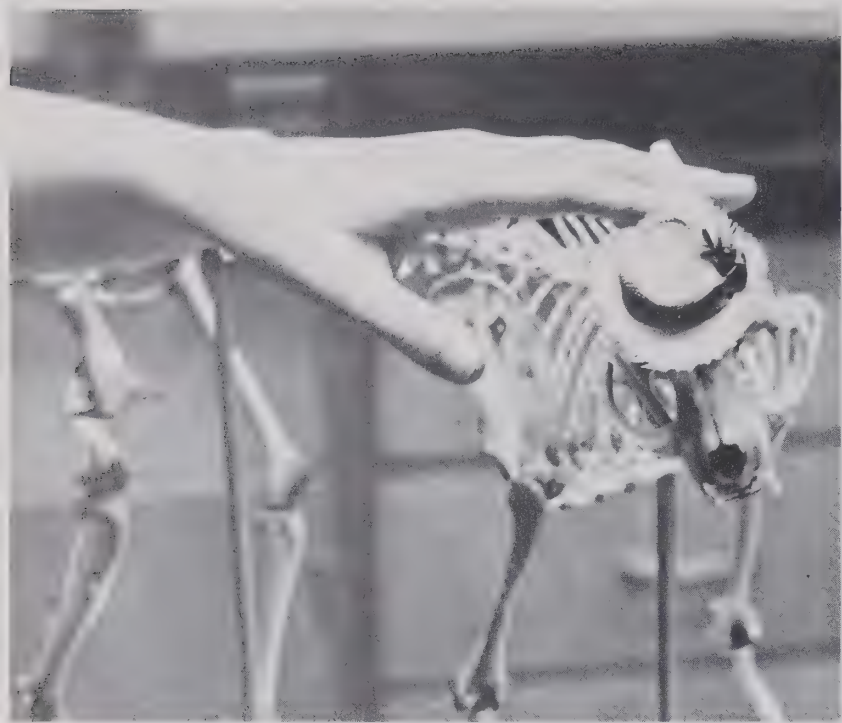

Debbie Nixon — "If God be with us, who could be against us."

Malina Reed — "No man is an island, entire of itself . . . each is a piece of the continent, a part of the main."

Beth Stewart — "I think it is only important to love the world not to despise it, not for us to hate each other, but to be able to guard the world and ourselves and all beings with love, admiration and respect."

The faculty, the school board, the administration, the Them. The teacher who let you out of class and the dean who caught you. The adopters of the grading scale and the composer of that excruciating test you flunked. The people that work so hard for the school that sometimes you wish might work a little less. The Them that composes the other half of Us—the leaders, the people of High Point Andrews.

Principal

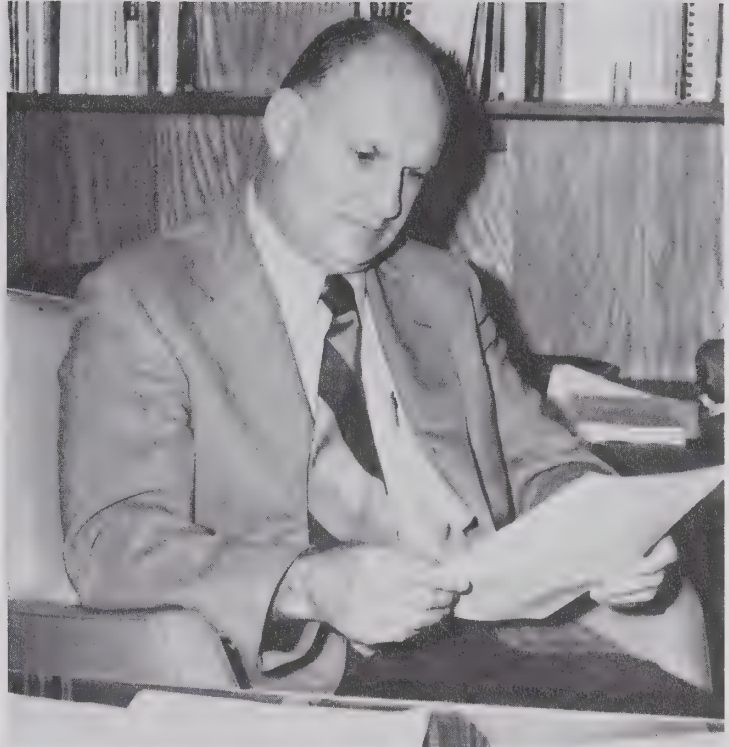

Our Principal

Mr. Herbert Greene Hipps, former coach and now principal, tackled his responsibilities with an amazing amount of zeal. The principal's job is perhaps the toughest position in any school. He frequently feels the weight of his extensive responsibility to faculty, students and community. Many times he must make decisions that may not be agreeable to everyone but are in the interest of the school.

Mr. Hipps has been with the High Point City School system since 1959 and has been at Andrews since its first year of existence. Since that time, he has always had the admiration of students. He has immense faith in young people. It is his feeling that young people today are far more sophisticated than ever before and that it is impossible for them to remain passive because of the interest directed toward them through advertising and other media.

His involvement in athletics as a head coach for 18 years, leads him to believe that there is tremendous value in competitive sports for young people.

Because Principal Hipps has performed his duties with such keen dedication and has always been ready to talk to anyone despite how busy he might be at that moment, he has won the respect of students and faculty alike.

Principal

Will this be my next stop?

Mr. John Russell who has been characterized as the man "behind the scenes" assisted the principal in many areas of school life. He played a major part in maintaining discipline. In discipline, he tried to get a student to change his negative attitude to a positive one. His policy toward students is firmness and fairness.

Mr. Russell feels that the greatest satisfaction in working is knowing that someone has been helped during the day.

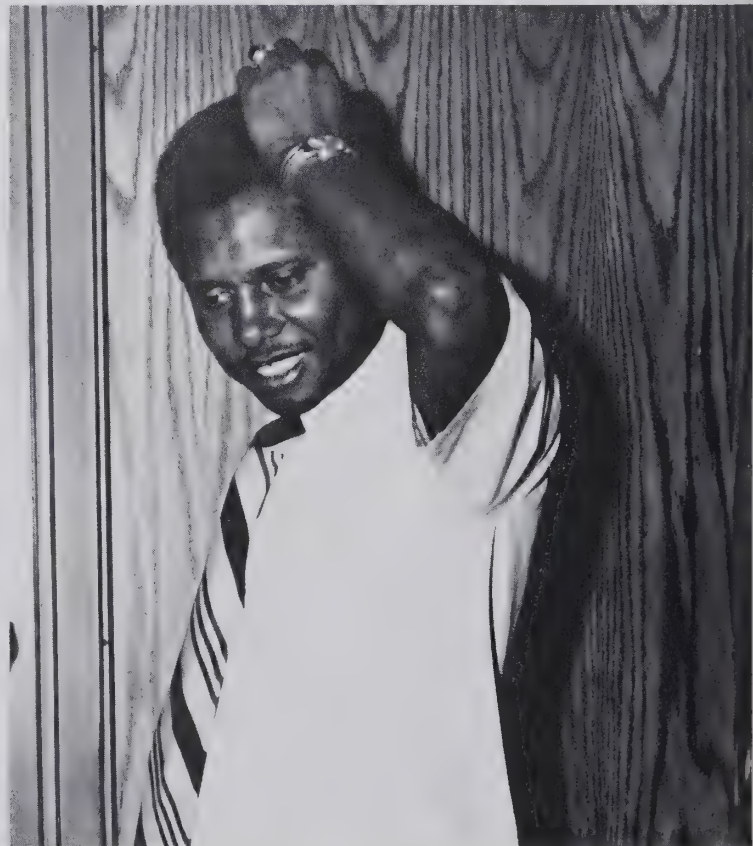

Vice Principal

Relaxation at last!!!

Assistant Principal

Will scratching your head really solve the problem?

Under an avalanche of cut slips and absentee lists, Mr. Bowman, the new Dean of Students at Andrews, was always ready to listen and act as a mediator in many students' problems. He was the disciplinarian and the keeper of attendance. Working along with Mr. Hipps and Mr. Russell, he was an asset to our school.

But the bus was late, Mr. Bowman.

Dean

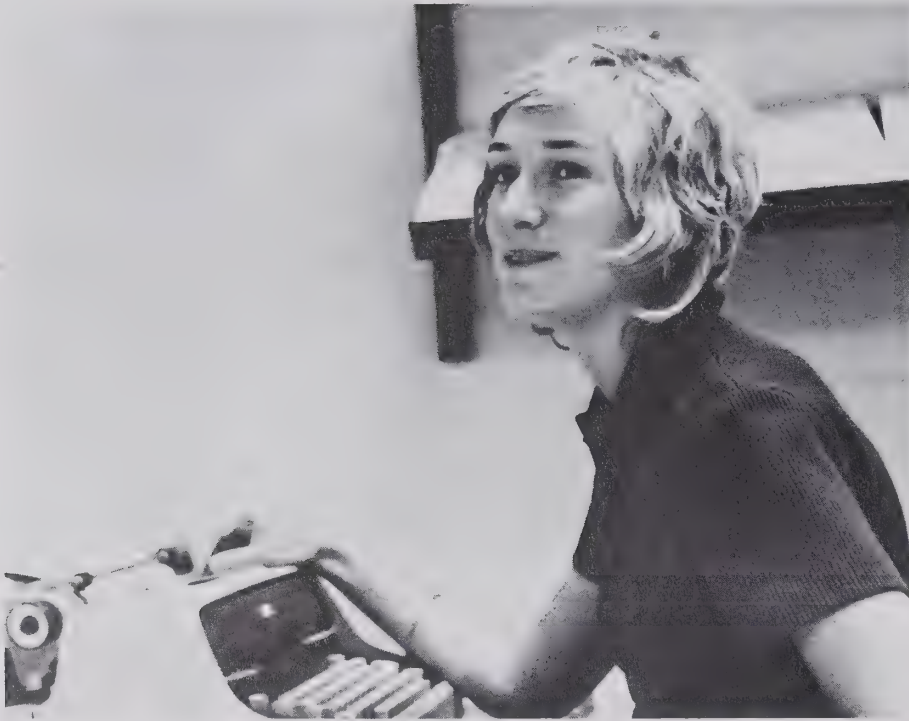

Now what seems to be the problem??

Our dean wears a smile on his face and on his lapel.

Dean

Secretaries

Miss Burney helps out with the office work.

Our secretaries, Mrs. Freeman, Miss Hines and Miss Burney handled various duties such as reports for the principal, bookkeeping and attendance records. Miss Hines and Mrs. Freeman worked within the general office, while Miss Burney proved to be of invaluable assistance to Mr. Bowman.

Mrs. Freeman greets everyone with a smile.

Miss Hines keeps the schools' financial records up to date.

Guidance Counselors

The two new Guidance counselors, Mrs. Dockery and Mrs. Bray, showed much concern for all students at school. These counselors were always willing to help with academic, social, and personal problems.

Activities sponsored by the counselors this year were Career Day and College Day.

Counselors assisted seniors with college plans and kept records of college entrance requirements for the use of the students. They also helped in planning students' schedules for next year by showing them what requirements they had to meet in order to graduate.

Mrs. Dockery and Mrs. Bray discuss plans for the upcoming S.A.T.

Mrs. Dockery reviews a student's file.

Mrs. Bray takes time out for a picture.

Library

I just can't seem to find it!!

There's more to a library than books and encyclopedias.

Silence . . . interrupted only by an infrequent whisper or a slamming of a door by a student who is eager to get into the library, remained in the library. 1115 students appreciated this stillness so that they could find pleasure in reading a new book, a magazine or the newspaper.

Our librarian, Miss Margaret McIntyre, was always ready to stop what she was doing to aid a student or a teacher in locating a book or with references for various reports.

The library was more than an academic center. It was also an all purpose room used for faculty meetings, inservice courses, and sometimes social gatherings.

Miss McIntyre works busily to help teachers and students.

Art and Drama

Now for a masterpiece!!

Water colors, pen and ink, acrylic still life paintings, pottery, macrame, tie-dying . . . these techniques and many others were used to create interest in the art program. The art students were shown by Mrs. Cathy Davis, head of the Art department, the importance of creativity. Emphasis was placed on individual instruction, centering on the interests, ability, and rate of work of each individual.

Dramatically inclined students found drama class to be the perfect outlet for their talents. However, as they learned, it is more to a plan than meets the eye when they saw "The Music Man" in Greensboro. To really show their enthusiasm in play production, 18 students bought season tickets to see plays at UNCG. Five students also went to a Drama workshop at the Salem School of the Arts in Winston Salem, N. C.

Mrs. Davis is always willing to assist her talented students.

Mrs. Bowles helps Debbie Burleson and Judy Williams with their lines.

Mrs. Erath listens as a student gives an answer.

Mrs. Dean passes out work for the day.

Business Department

The teachers of the Business Department endeavored to teach students those skills which would prepare them for their future occupations in the business world.

Typing, shorthand, business machines, data processing, business math, co-operative office occupations, preparatory office occupations, and consumer economics were courses offered in the Business Department this year.

Mrs. Harger is alone at last.

Mrs. Chess prepares an assignment for tomorrow's classes.

English Department

"Here's to Macbeth!, Miss Brookbank."

Mrs. Burch is momentarily disturbed by a noise in the hall.

Mr. Belch uses gestures to get his point across.

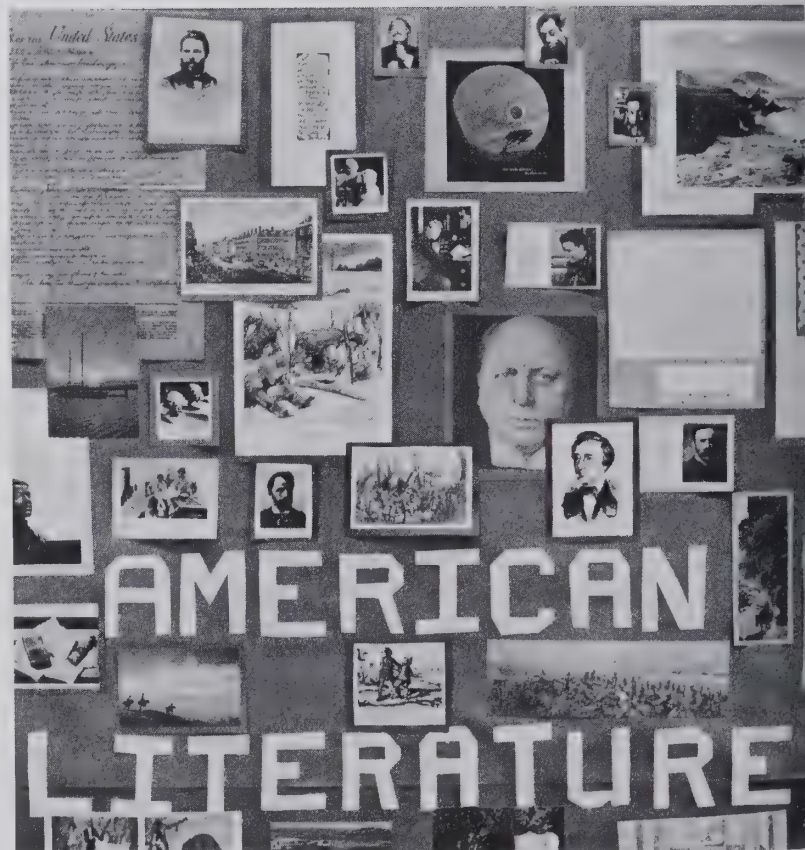

Mr. Jones listens intently to a student's report.

Mrs. Bullins finds time for a little research of her own.

Exhausting themes, research papers and despicable tests became routines as students attempted success in English. As October drew nearer, there was cramming of vocabulary and grammar for SAT and College Board tests.

Sensations of fright were experienced by underclassmen before the delivering of a speech. Classical novels such as Silas Marner and Wuthering Heights added intrigue and enjoyment to Sophomore study.

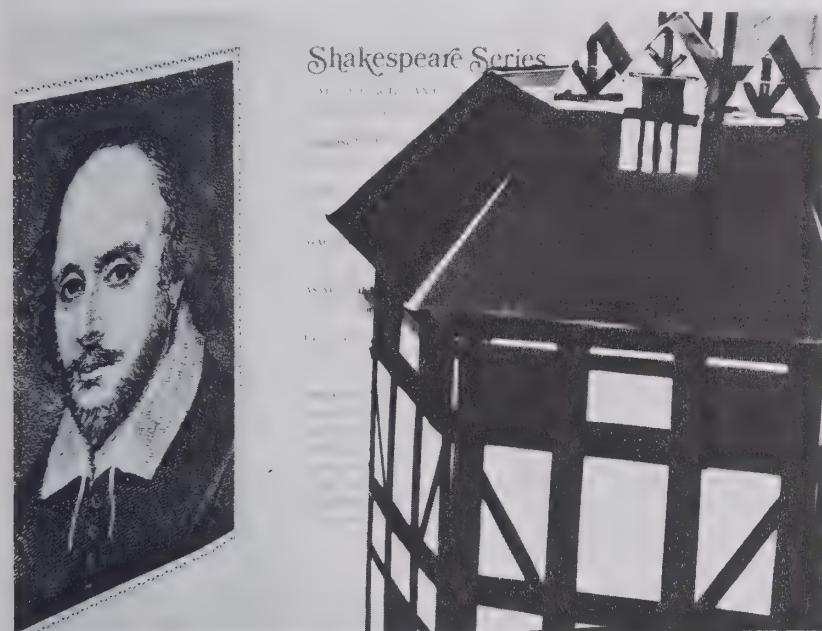

As a milestone, some juniors enjoyed the use of another textbook American Literature: Themes and Writers. Such themes as "Endless Frontiers" and "The Struggle For Justice" enhanced their knowledge on the American way of life. The Scarlet Letter, as a novel made a definite impression on the third year students.

Seniors, having gained fundamentals in composition, progressed to advanced detailed research papers. English Literature with stimulating supernatural experience through the study of Macbeth continued to have an impact on the seniors in June.

As a highlight in the English Department, there was team teaching done by Mr. Belch and Miss Eaglin during the second period senior English.

Mrs. Bowles gives the final warning.

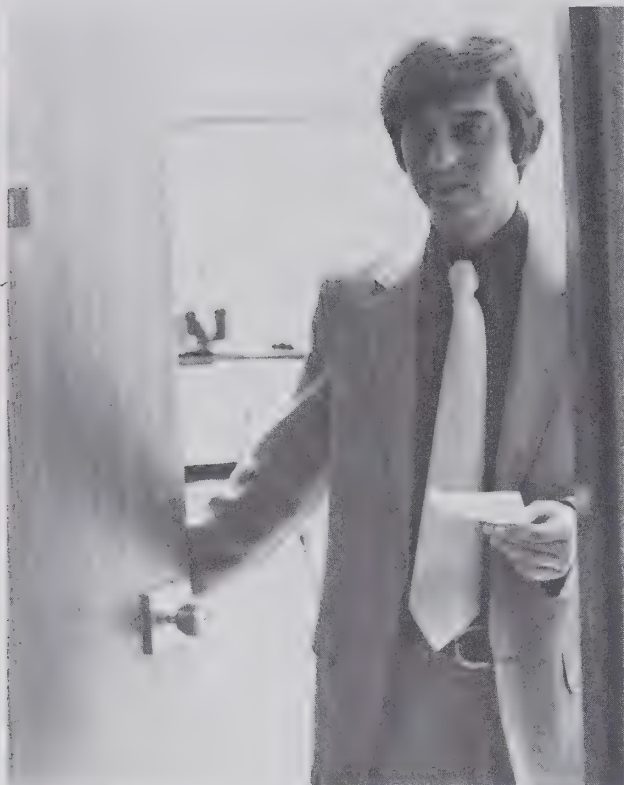

Yes, it's another school day already Mrs. Byerly.

What's so amusing, Mrs. Johnson?

Foreign Language

Bonjour! Monsieur Arnold

Mrs. Johnson finds refuge in the teacher's lounge.

New emphasis was placed on the cultural heritage of France — its music, history, and character — in the French department this year. The use of games, filmstrips, and paintings added enjoyment for some of the students of the French language.

The Latin department carried on the traditions of the Roman people with the killing of Caesar and a Roman banquet. The students of Latin II and III translated several classical writings including some of Pliny's letters, Cicero's orations, and Caesar's commentaries.

FRANCE

Posters show French life.

Latina est non mortua!

Mrs. Hernandez, Hola Isabella!

Filmstrips depicting the traditions and customs of Spanish-speaking countries were used in the department to promote the studies of the Spanish students. Mrs. Hernandez, Mrs. Gibson, and Mrs. Sykes, teachers of the four levels of Spanish offered at Andrews this year, endeavored to develop in their students an enrichment of the four communication skills — listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Mrs. Sykes, has somebody done something right for a change?

Mrs. Gibson, who also teaches English, takes time for a break.

Home Economics

Mrs. Adams finds her students amusing.

The Home Economics department fostered in its students an appreciation of the home and family life. Along with the veteran courses, such as Home Economics I and II, Boys' Home Economics, and Family Life Education, a new course was added to the department. This course, Cooperative Home Economics, provided students with the opportunity to learn by experience in Home Economic related jobs. The Food Service classes were enlightened by visits to food service establishments. The FHA was open to any student who was interested in any of the many areas of Home Economics.

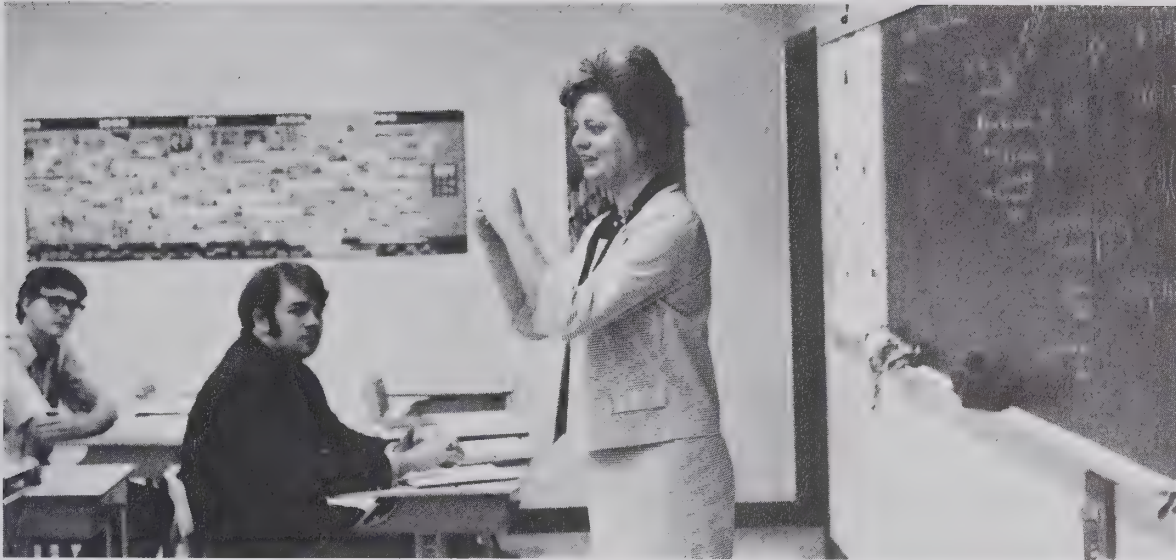

Quiet Boys!

Mrs. Scruggs smiles at the reply she was given.

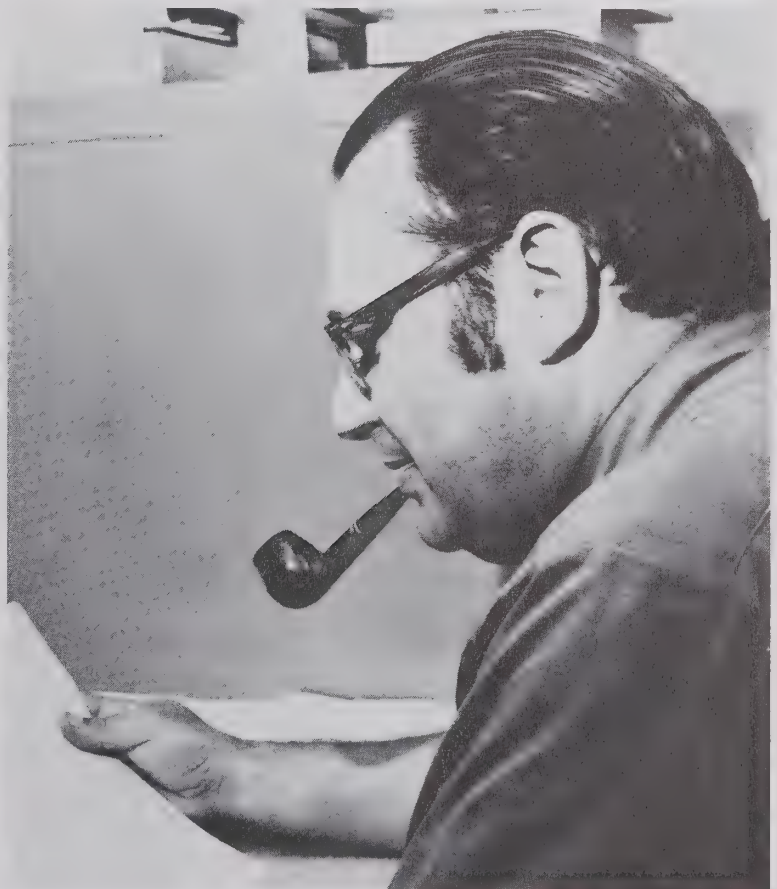

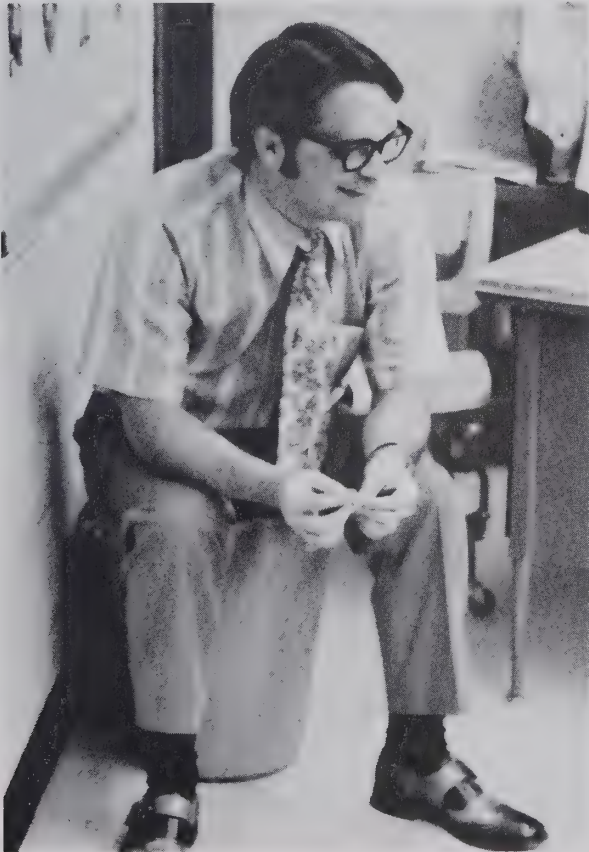

Mathematics

Miss Welch believes that "within these four walls silence will be interpreted as all is well."

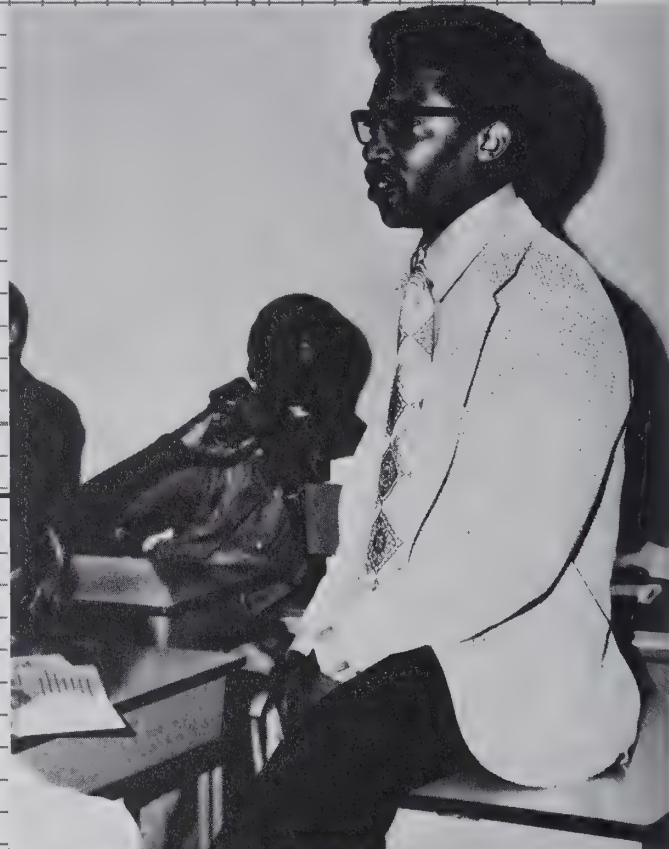

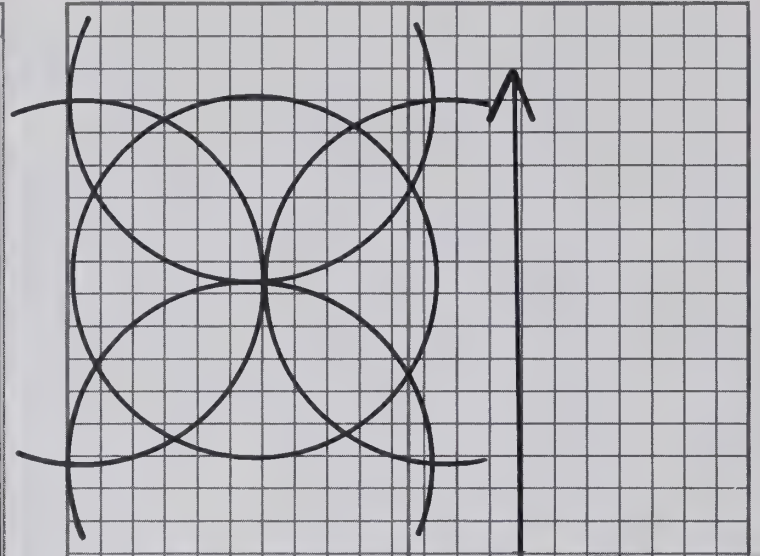

Like every teacher, grading tests is a part of Mr. Pemberton's life.

Mr. Wright takes a break . . . But, what's this?
A smile?

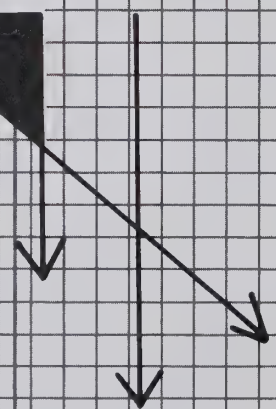

Mrs. Harris is engaged in the tremendous task of keeping her students' records in order.

Mr. Rush explains why $x = z$.

Math Department

A wide and diversified range of courses was offered by the department of mathematics at Andrews this year. Each student could find his level of capability—from General Math I and II, Algebra I, and Geometry, to Calculus, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry, and Analytical Geometry.

Approximately one hundred books were made available by the math office for the students' use as reference sources. The opportunity was provided for each student to pursue the study of mathematics at a rate consistent with his ability to learn and which would fulfill the requirements for advanced study and for practical usage.

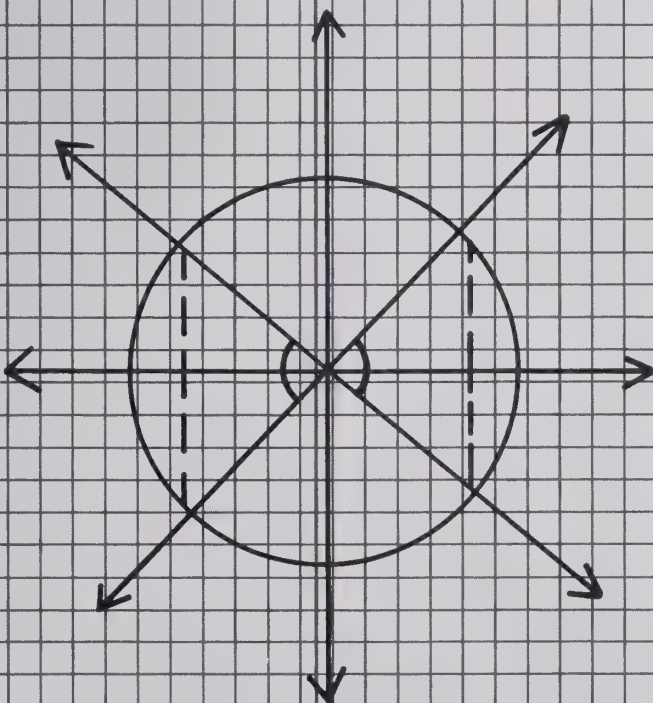

Mrs. Planson smiles as she does her homework.

Math Department

Another proof, Mrs. Flythe?

Miss Browne wants it done this way.

Music Department

Science Department

The mixed aroma of hydrogen sulphide and formaldehyde penetrated the halls of Andrews as the science students associated the basic laws of the sciences into everyday activities. This association made them aware of the necessity of careful observation and collection of data in order to form proper conclusions.

Mrs. Davis instructs her class as to the proper biological procedure.

But Coach Hunter, the book says . . .

Mrs. Townsend points out an important factor in the lab.

Coach Harger is amazed at the answers of his biology class.

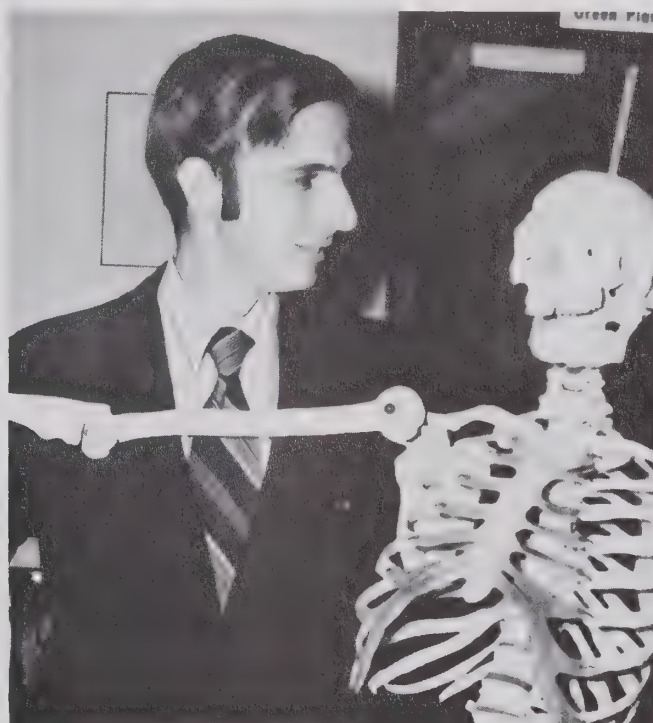

Mr. Johnson's Advanced Biology classes explore the anatomy of the cat.

Mr. Roadhouse meditates on his dangerous occupation as Chemistry instructor.

Mr. Johnson really enjoys the subject of biology.

S o c i a l S t u d i e s

Miss Nash seems to find pleasure in her teaching (or is this her planning period?)

Miss Scott waits eagerly for her homeroom to come.

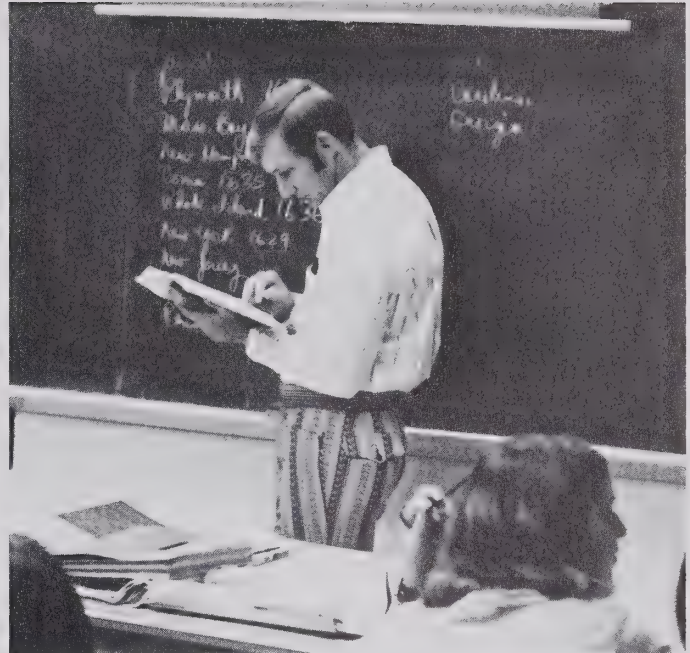

Hello, Mr. President? This is Miss Cochrane.

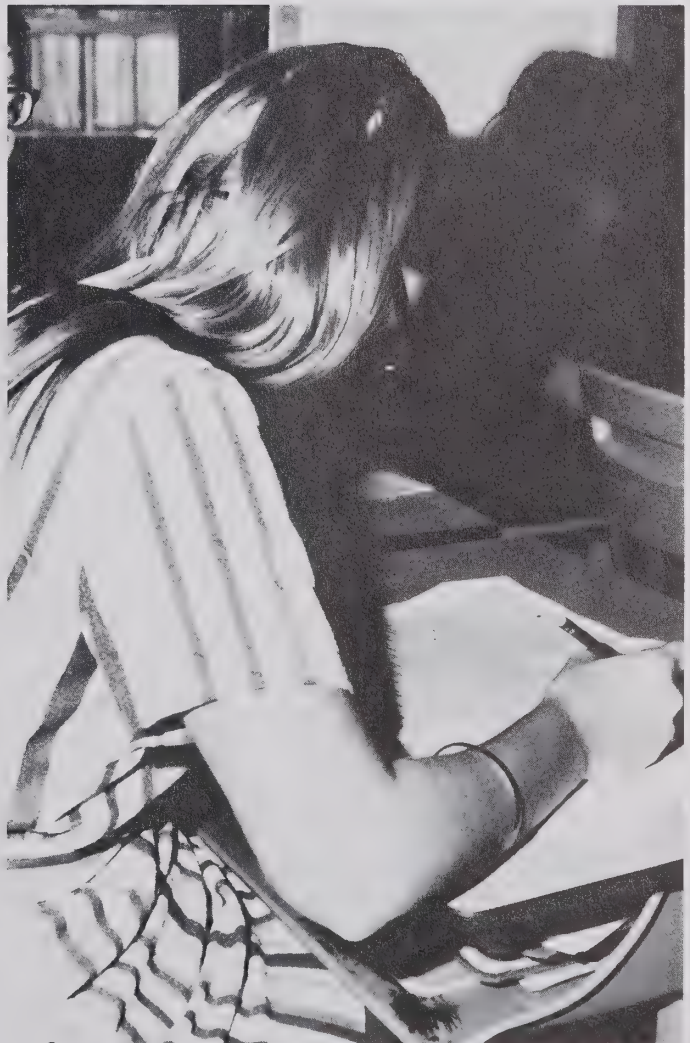

Mr. Wightman, social studies and gym teacher, finds something amusing at the back of the room.

U.S. History, World History, Sociology, Psychology, Government, Problems of Democracy—these were the courses studied in the Social Studies Department this year. Special activities such as simulation games, role playing, inquiry sessions, and use of new visual aid media greatly added to the interest of the subjects. New approaches to courses such as World History and Government changed the atmosphere of the department.

Students learned how to better relate their studies to the world around them and to cope with problems and situations in their current world by looking at man in all aspects of his life. The department attempted to establish in the students a basic understanding of man's attitudes and ideas and to guide the student's way into finding himself and his role as an individual in society.

Mr. Boswell reviews dates for his class.

NO. 2

OCTOBER 1971

4 a big success

Valda Boyd, Miss Andrews of 1972-73, is escorted by Lee Foye.

On Oct. 11, the NFL journeyed to Virginia Tech for a hardwired of members and M. excused all da trip.

Jeff Allen, Burchfield teamed quarter in the 11-0 record.

winner: corral the mustangs

The noises of construction greeted the cool morning of October 15. Hammers, saws, and swishing brushes were busily employed as our bleak parking lot became the sight of spirited homecoming floats. Each club or organization excused eight workers who fell to the task of presenting the best homecoming show since our foundation. As the cool day turned into a blistering warmth, sweaters, sweat shirts, and tennis shoes were flung aside.

As judging began, the speculation of which club had most successfully presented and interpreted this year's theme, "Raider Round Up," soared to a hundred per cent spirit in each float. Everyone related when they saw the Raider being ridden against the new policy concerning outsiders at school functions. Most students felt it was ridiculous to fill out a form for their dates and most graduates don't appreciate being "outsiders."

Another explanation could be that people just don't want to bother with school-sponsored functions anymore. If this is the case, why bother with the time and effort, if so few care?

Whatever the reason, it is evident that something should be done to change the attitude of either the students or the administration.

During the week preceding the Christmas holidays, the National Honor Society invited twelve outstanding seniors to become members of the organization. Only a few short months later, in an impressive candlelight service, a handful of juniors were elected to the honor. Members, chosen on the basis of leadership, scholarship, character, and service, worked to promote good student/faculty relations, to preserve the beauty of the high school, and to set an example as representatives of all students who strive for the goals of the organization in their own lives. Such is the purpose of the honor society, if not its constant countenance.

Raiders Seize District Title In First Year of 4-A Competition

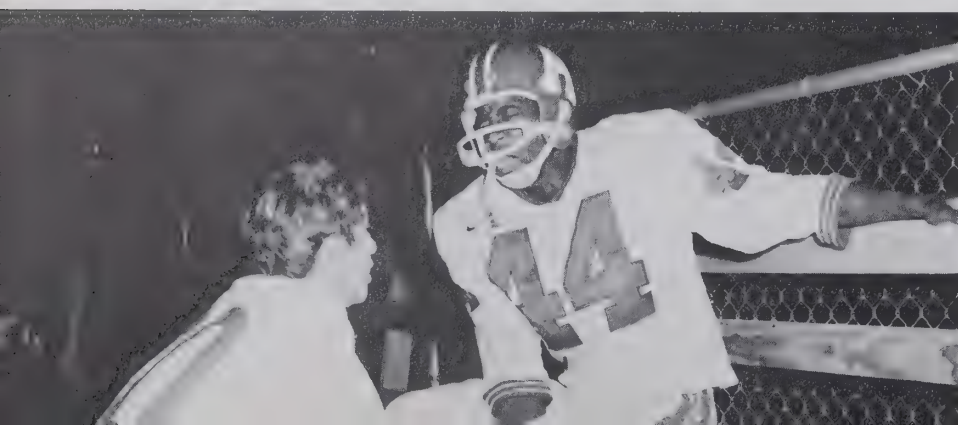

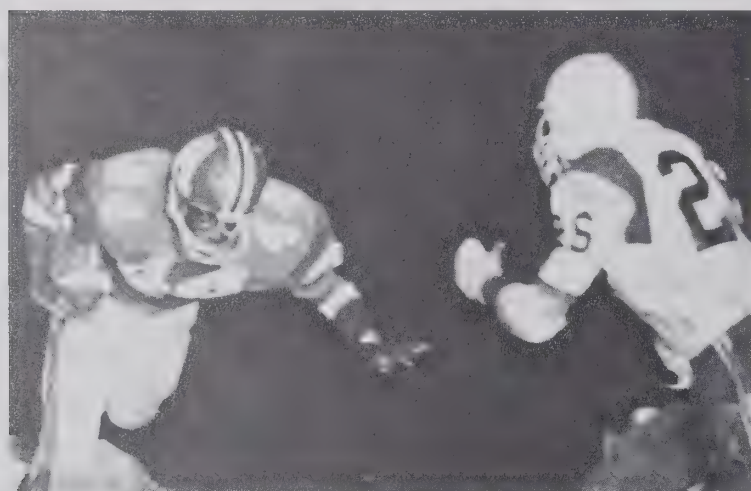

What happened to the Andrews Red Raiders? Pre-season reports stated that our "Big Red Machine" could not possibly have a winning season. The first game proved our pessimistic friends wrong. Rumors were around that the defensive players were not the same ones that showed up for summer practice. Defensive stars Renny Johnson, Jack Powell, and Moose Johnson among the rest of the defensive team made many key plays and snatched several interceptions to keep the opponents guessing, hoping and, finally, losing. The offensive team fared well also. Led by the passing of Deuce Alexander and Sammy Durham, the blocking of Gary Kearns, David Campbell and Randy Habbs and the running of Herbert Cole, the Raiders chalked up 26 points. Johnny Evans added a few points of his own in field goals and extra points. Head coach Bob Hoswell's formula for success was "discipline and organization." Assistant coaches Lambeth, McRae, Hunter, Wightman and Harger had to agree. The biggest boost of the season came when the Raiders chewed up the Bison by a big score of 23-7. Now football fans in High Point had to agree that Andrews means business.

The 1971 Junior Varsity Football Team had slight trouble adjusting to 4-A football but still gained valuable experience in the basics of football, which are kicking, hitting, catching, passing, and hurting. They also gained experience in team effort and pride.

The co-captains Allen Campbell and Mike Brown, along with Coach Bill Hunter boosted the Baby Raiders to an overall record of four wins and five losses to end up in a tie for second place in their conference. Outstanding players on offense were Brown, Keith Harpe and Timmy Johnson. Outstanding defensive players were Campbell and David Draughn.

Coach George Foree's motto, "We'll give anyone a fight" proved to be an understatement in the Red Raider 1971-1972 basketball season. The mighty Raiders did indeed give many teams a fight, including whipping High Point Central in the first encounter between the schools this season. Central, however, managed to salvage some of their pride as they barely won the next game between the two rivals.

Through the coolness of Reggie Honbarrier, the sharp shooting of Glenn Bethea and the ever powerful rebounding of Lee Foye along with a strong bench of willing substitutes, Coach Foree was able to put together a highly successful team.

One of the high points of the season was the Christmas Holiday tournament held at Central High School between teams from Andrews, Thomasville, Lexington, and Central. Andrews came out the victor, beating Thomasville in the final game.

"Now that you have me, what are you going to do with me?"

Row 1: Austin, Dozier, McGowan, Murvin, Quick, Clinton, Brown. Row 2: Coach Lambeth, Yow, Nash, Wilson, Hubbard, Campbell, Ollis, Ruff.

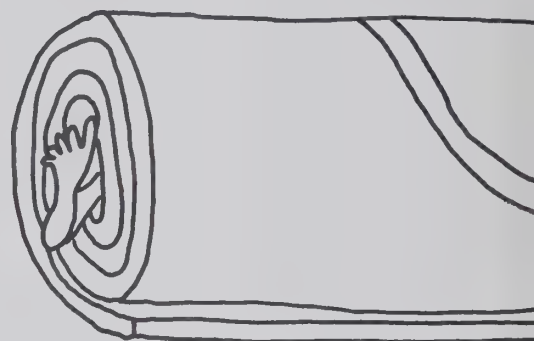

For the third year in a row, the Andrews wrestling team were conference champions in the Central 4-A District 5 conference, which is a great honor for such a young school. Many fans did not think Andrews could be conference champs again because several star seniors graduated, but Coach Lambeth and the rest of the team were determined, and determination is a prime factor in winning.

Besides winning in the conference, the Raiders also led in the Ben L. Smith Invitational Tournament held in Greensboro. Five Raider grapplers snatched first places in the tournament. They were David Dozier, Larry Murvin, Gregory Davis, David Campbell, and Gary Ollis.

David Dozier and David Campbell went undefeated in the regular season.

The opponent gets locked up in a Strong hold.

"Brute" Brown and "Mauler" McGowan warm up before the match.

The 1972 Andrews Swim Team got off to a tremendous start, beating Dudley by the score of 11-0. But, alas, this was the only glimmer of hope as the Raiders fell victim to Reynolds and Page. Coached by Coach McRae, the best swimmers were Steve Wasserman, Mike Wasserman, Hank Ledford, Wesley McGee, and Mike McDowell. Diving for the team were Jim Harris and David Saunders. Where the team lacked skill, they made up in guts and desire. Next year will be different.

"What's a good cure for waterlog, Coach?"

Jeff York gulps for air as he makes the turn.

Steve Steffan looks on as James Bronson tries to make up his mind.

Varsity

The 1971-72 cheerleaders worked on many worthwhile projects to try to raise school spirit. They sold toothbrushes in the summer and helped to raise money for the wooden Indian to be placed in the Student Commons. The Junior Varsity squad sold programs at football games. Both squads held a cookout for the football players and tried their best to raise enthusiasm at pep rallies. The Varsity cheerleaders had Susan Idol as head and Betty Bambalis as co-head. Junior Varsity co-heads were Elaine Howard and Jackie Webb. Both squads were advised by Mrs. Georgia Amos and Mrs. Nancy Morgan.

Raider Power

Raiders Worked Hard for the Conference Title

The spring of 1971 brought with it another fine baseball team for Andrews. There were only five seniors on the team, but the lack of experience was overcome by the enthusiasm and hard work of the players.

It was Coach Tom Harger's first year with the Raiders but he was able to put together a winning combination behind a fine pitching staff. Andrews finished second in the conference with only four runs keeping it from taking the title.

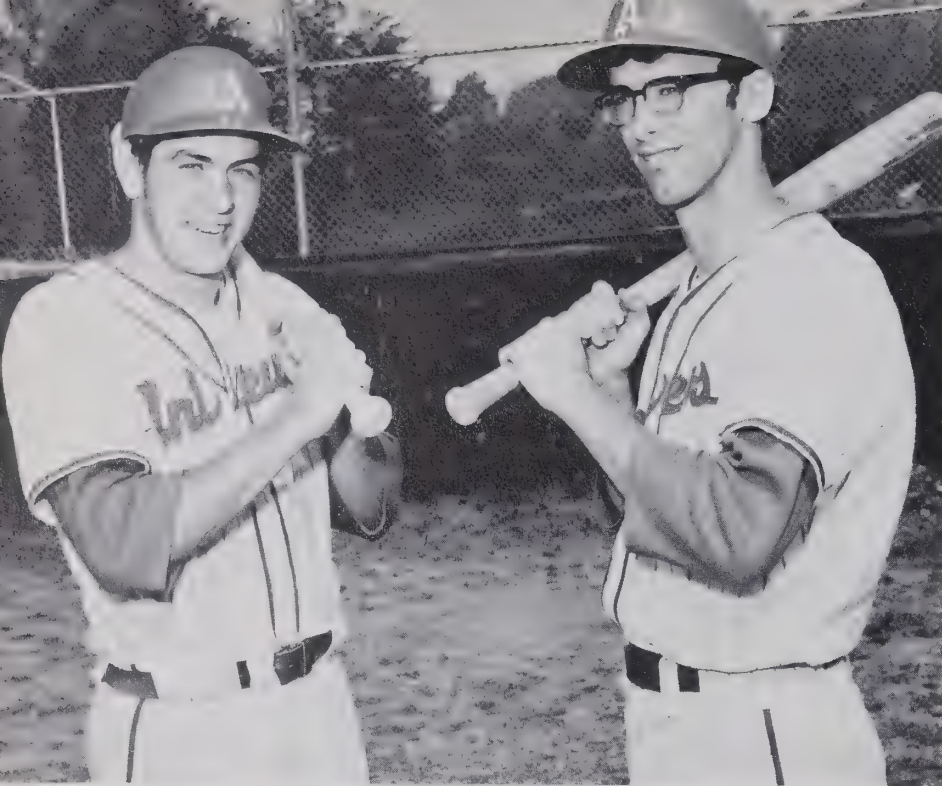

Dale Pendry has trouble finding friends.

(Wonder what it is?)

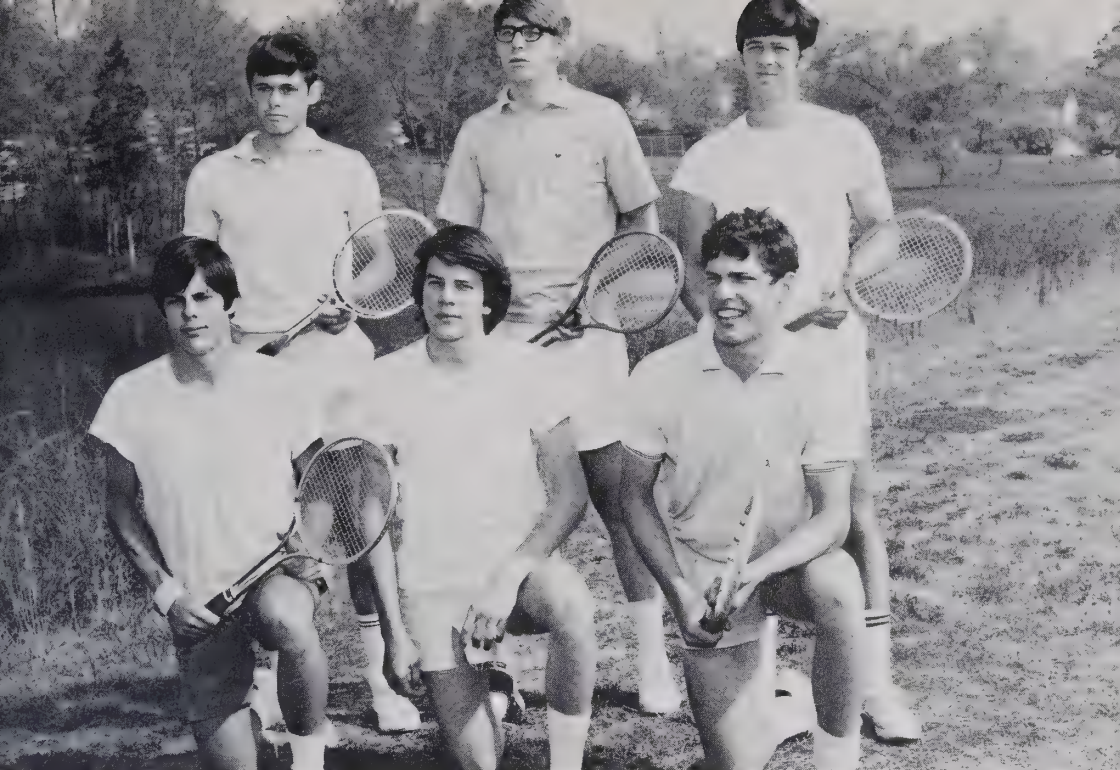

Co-captains Miller and Thomas talk it over.

Pre-game warm-up involves a lot of resting.

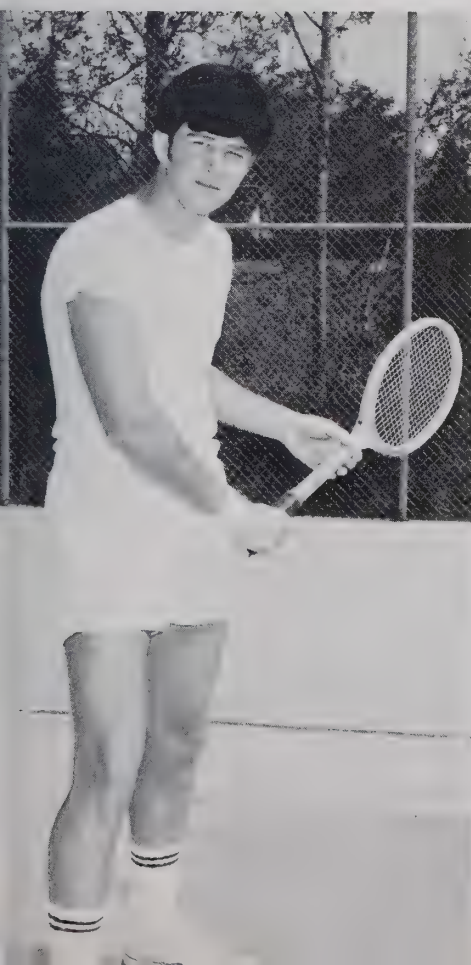

Scott Lambeth awaits a throw at second base.

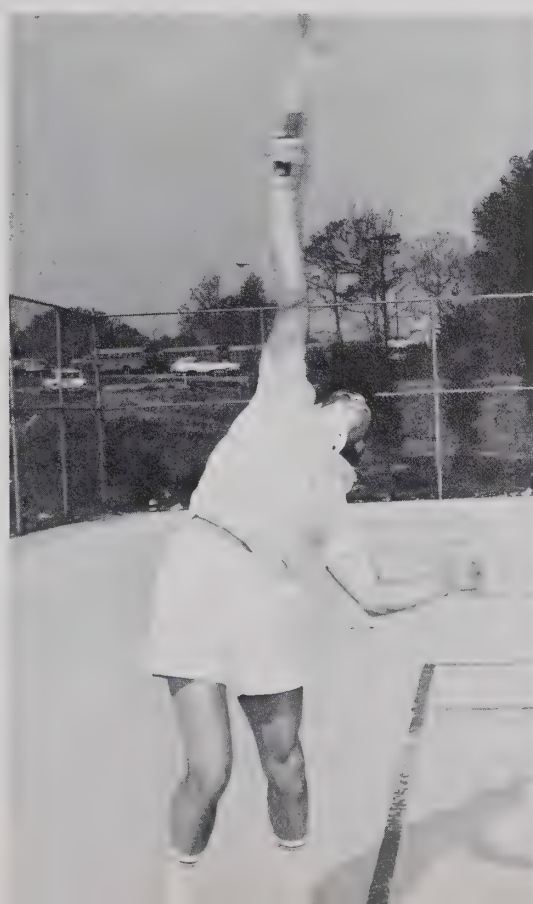

Kneeling: Wilson, Mays, Williams.
Standing: Davis, Southards, Field.
Not Pictured: Cockerham, Black, Allred, Stutts.

Netters Finished Season Second

The 1971 tennis team came in second in their league with a 5-4 record. Returning were players Phil Davis, Keith Field, and Bob Williams. Phil Davis, being "Outstanding Player", drew first position on the team. New letter winners were Bill Cockerham, Dickie Black, and Jeff Allred; other players earned Certificates of Merit. All the matches were tough and the entire team worked hard to defend our conference title. We appreciated it, guys.

Davis smashes his way to another win.

Golf Team Went Swinging Into Action

With intense concentration, Mike Sullivan prepares to tee off.

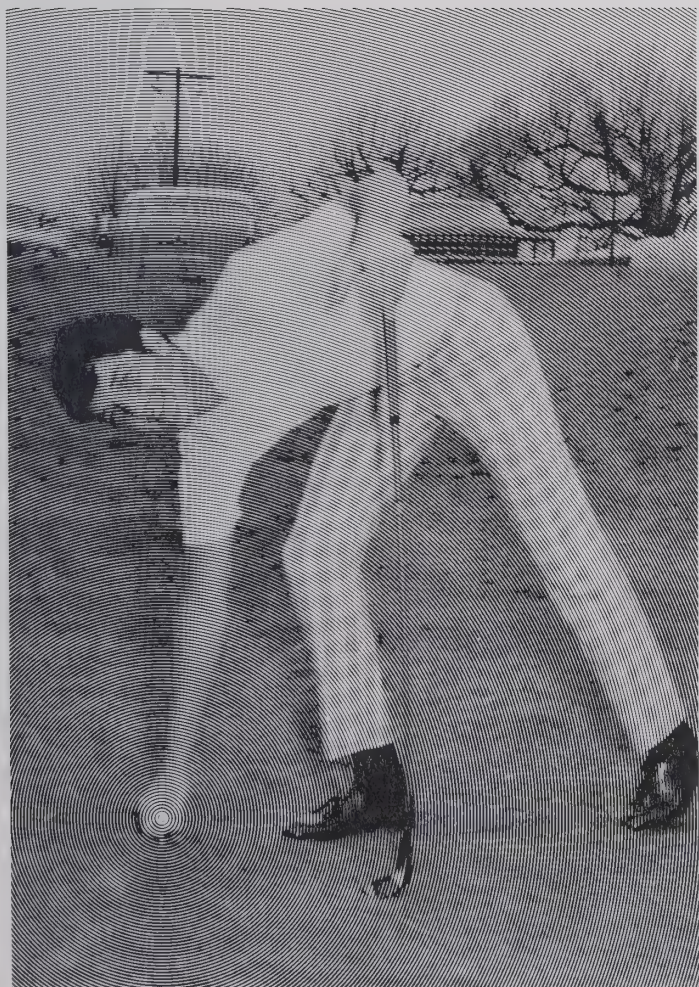

Kever, Sullivan, Wall, Culler, Ivey.

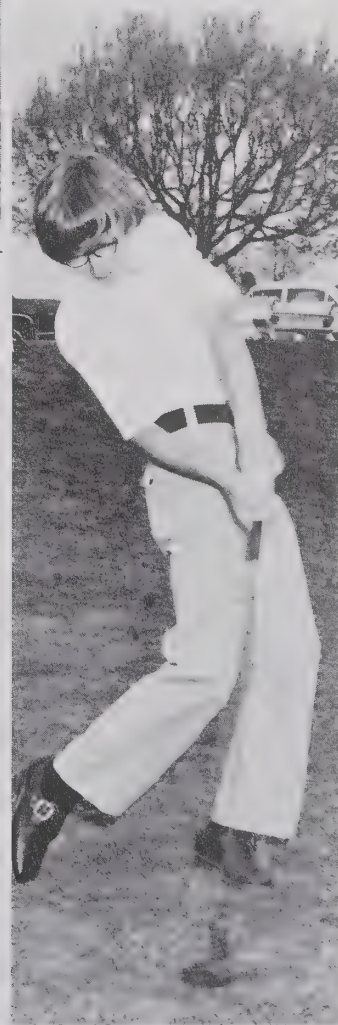

The golf team finished a fair season by attaining third in the regular season play. (Too bad there are only five teams in it, but that's life!) However, the team qualified for the first time in the state match at Chapel Hill. Qualifying in itself was quite an honor. The attending players were Ivey, Culler, Briley, and Wall. Of the entire team, Jimmy Ivey was considered the Most Valuable Player.

If looks could win a golf tournament...

Breck Culler always tees off with a smile.

Danny Keever putt putts down the fairway.

Trackmen Swept Conference

Coaches Mike Lambeth and Bill Wightman boost the team to a successful season.

State champ Jesse Ratliff attempts another great vault.

Watson moves into high gear.

The mighty Raider trackmen ran, hurdled, jumped and vaulted their way to a highly successful 1971 season. At the prestigious State track meet, Jesse Ratliff was first in the pole vault with a jump of 14 feet, 4 3/4 inches. Lee Foye came in third in the high jump at 6 feet, 2 inches. The Andrews' team finished fifth in the state. The cindermen did extremely well in the sectional meet having a number of men to qualify. Nine Raiders qualified for the regionals. At the Duke Durham Relays, the Raiders finished fourth out of 56 teams. Conference champions were Ratliff in the pole vault, Foye in the high jump, David Blue in the broad jump, Mike Watson in the 880 yard dash, Joel Smith in the mile, and Ulysses Clinton, James McQueen, Ratliff and Watson in the mile relay. Ratliff was named most valuable and David Blue was named most improved.

Chisem gives it everything he's got.

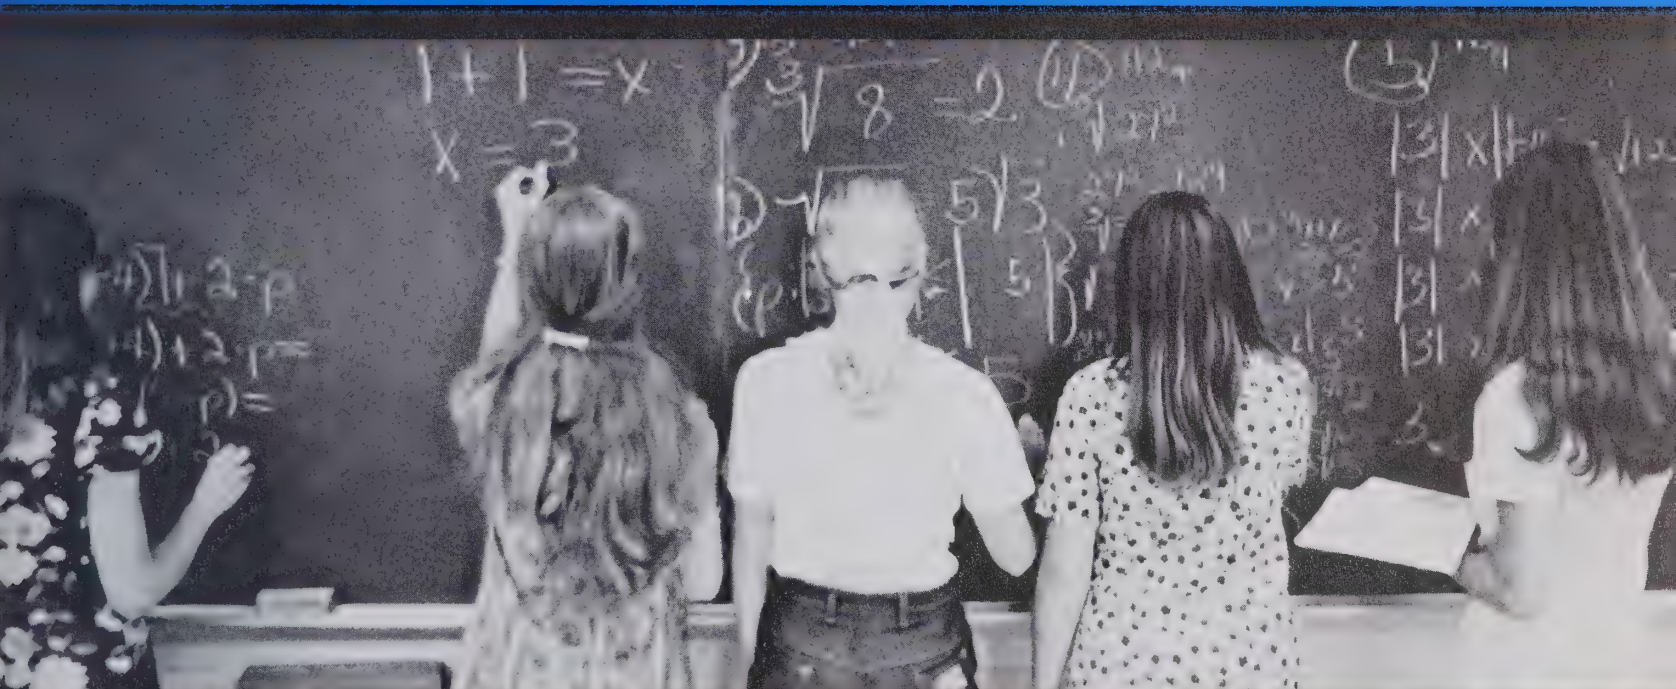

Phew! Is that me?

Us — that's you, me, and that kid over there. Us—forming a We, a Together, a Something Shared. Sharing classes and teachers, exams and self-evals. Sharing lessons and laughter, a locker and a biology lab. Together, as a student body. A head can't forget its hands; how can you forget Alice, Bobby, Lee, Linda, Debbie, Billy, Janet . . . well, us!

Mrs. Jones finds time for a drink of water.

And the New Year came.

And there were sophomores and somebody must have said "It was good" because they've been around ever since.

And so came the sophomore class to Andrews High. Wary at first of high school, they soon settled down to the daily routine that the upper classmen were used to. Sophomores participated in the yearly rituals of drivers education, club pledges, homecoming, and the elections of Student Council officers. This year the class was led by President Joni Peters, Vice President Steve Nichols, Secretary Mary Quinn, and Treasurer Anita Dicken.

Mrs. Bullins

Let there be juniors.

And there were juniors, coming back to HPA with the spirit to keep the pep rallies alive, the tradition to keep club pledges on the go, and the knowledge (?) to overcome PSAT's.

The juniors, no longer being lowly sophomores, and not yet lordly seniors, began warily to eye their futures. Participating in college day enlightened many juniors as to where they might best continue their education.

With Joe Cheek as President, Mike McDowell as Vice President, Terri Nielson as Secretary, and Patra Moore as Treasurer, the class strived onward.

SENIORS

At the end of their long journey, the seniors looked back on their yesterdays with dreams of tomorrow. Years of saying, "When I grow up", were suddenly replaced by the puzzling, "What now?". Decisions, choices, and the last burst of exuberant study filled the lives of these people facing the end, yet really the beginning.

Led by Bobby Burchfield, Jeff Allred, Toni Snider, and Barbara Joyce, the Class of '72 tried to maintain a sense of unity that would only remain in the thoughts of a past childhood. "What now?" . . . Tomorrow!

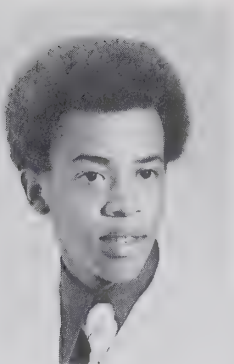

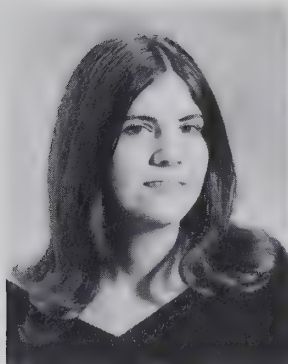

They're not Bonnie and Clyde and friends; but, they are the senior class officers.

HIGH POINT COLLEGE

You may not know there is a quality institution of higher education in High Point — a four-year, liberal arts college. High Point College is a mixture of the old and new, offering an ideal atmosphere for students with a variety of backgrounds and interests.

A new student applicant must take the S.A.T. and must have graduated with the college preparation curriculum from high school. You may want to investigate the early decision plan or you may wish to be considered under the regular rolling admissions schedule.

Since college represents total development in many areas, High Point College strives to allow freedom to encounter such training through a student oriented program. There is no attempt to force students into assuming specific thought patterns, dress codes, etc. However, with the exciting new concepts of curriculum and personal freedom that college brings, there is also the responsibility to protect such freedoms. All students are expected to conduct themselves as responsible young men and women.

In order to learn more about High Point College we encourage you to visit the campus. Take a look at our facilities. Talk with our students and faculty. Look at the admissions materials. Ask for an application.

You may be missing something important!

In Memoriam
Ronald Bruce Edwards
Roy Lee Coble

Yet the timelessness in you is aware of life's timelessness,
And knows that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream . . .
Who among you does not feel that his power to love is boundless? . . .
And is not time even as love is, undivided and spaceless?
But if in your thought you must measure time into seasons, let each season encircle all other seasons,
And let today embrace the past with remembrance and the future with longing.
